Demographics

Demographics Summary

As an established campus in Katy ISD, Beckendorff Junior High has been educating students of grades 6-8 for 16 years. Our current enrollment is 1,718 and is made up of 6% African American, 33% Asian, 19% Hispanic, and 37% White. Specific subgroups further define our diversity with 7% of our students included in our ESL program, 7% 504 students, 25% receiving GT services, and 7% with Special Education services. There is a close balance of male and female students at BDJH. Our mobility rate of 5% is also significant in evaluating the demographic information of our school.

Of the 122 staff members on campus, 90% are Professional Staff and 10% are Educational Aides. First-year teachers make up 2% of the staff while 15% have more than 20 years of experience. Nearly 30% of our teachers hold a Master’s degree.

Demographics Strengths

The strengths of Beckendorff Junior High are obvious to any visitor to our campus. First, the quality of our students cannot be overstated. They are of great moral character and while being diverse, they are highly motivated with a wide array of interests which brings them together across otherwise perceived boundaries.

1. The quality of our student body is also evident by a high attendance rate of nearly 98%. Not only does this represent the dedication of our students but the support from our parents.
2. Our parental and faculty support is also an enormous factor in the quality and success of our students. This is most evident by the 100% involvement of our faculty in the PTA. Along with this, the willingness of our PTA to provide professional development for our staff and character education for our student body are contributing factors in our success.
3. With the diverse population that we support at BDJH, it is necessary that we have a strong foundation in every area including programs such as Special Education and Gifted and Talented. Every program is evaluated regularly for effectiveness and continuous growth.

Problem Statements Identifying Demographics Needs

Problem Statement 1: Students struggle with lack of resilience and processing their emotions in a high-performance environment, particularly when faced with a setback. Root Cause: Increased demands on students and excessive use of social technology hinders their ability to have meaningful discussions with peers and adults. The ever increasing societal and parental desire to insulate students from setbacks hinders the development of a Growth Mindset and masks the idea that at time great effort must be applied in order to achieve the desired outcome(s).

Problem Statements Identifying Student Learning Needs

Problem Statement 1: 2019 STAAR data for Beckendorff Junior High reveals that 72% of our Special Education students Meet Grade Level on all STAAR tested areas compared to 96% school wide. Root Cause: Lack of early intervention; needed professional development with SPED and non-SPED teachers regarding accommodation application; increased need of data analysis as a part reteaching efforts.

Problem Statement 2: Student data for all core content areas continues to show some degree of learning loss. Root Cause: Student performance suffered due to a variety of factors exasperated by COVID 19.

Processes Instructional:

Implementation and emphasis on a backward design of instructional implementation.

Studying and implementing differentiation strategies to address learning loss in response to COVID-19.

Collaborative Teaming

Data Driven Instruction

Processes Training and Development:

Professional Development Rotation incorporate vertical collaboration, grade level and department meetings, faculty meetings, as well as additional professional development to address specific needs. In addition to this Professional Development Rotation, BDJH will continue with Learning Walks, formal and informal observation and coaching, and Collaborative Teaming.

Instruction at Beckendorff Junior High is driven by the Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills and the Katy ISD developed scope and sequence based on these TEKS. Teachers use these resources to plan and align curriculum, instruction, and assessments. Grade level department teams meet weekly with an Instructional Coach and/or assistant principal to develop instruction with best practices based on these Cornerstones of Learning: collaboration, communication, creative thinking, critical thinking, information literacy, problem solving, and social contribution. These teams also work together to create common formative and summative assessments aligned with instruction and curriculum, data from formal and informal assessments, and from coworkers with an emphasis on risk taking and transparency.
As educators, Beckendorff uses a variety of data in order to drive instruction. This data can include both formal and informal assessments, including state, district and campus based assessments. Data gathered from these assessments helps to maintain alignment with the scope and sequence of the TEKS. This analysis of data guides reteaching when necessary. Guidance from our instructional coaches encourages and supports teachers with a backward design in developing lesson plans, always planning with the end in mind. This collaboration of ideas, sharing of data, coaching, and teaming help develop assessments which helps to ensure growth.

Student progress is monitored through a compilation of major and minor grades. These include but are not limited to DLA's, project based learning, campus based assessments, and daily assignments. Grade reports are systematically reviewed by teachers, counselors, instructional coaches, and assistant principals. Parents also have the Home Access Center by which they can be an integral part of student accountability. RTI's are developed for students who struggle in academic or behavioral areas, with teachers, counselors, or other stakeholders maintaining relevant intervention strategies and their results. Additional supports are documented and maintained in order to increase student success.

Beckendorff Junior High promotes a student centered environment which includes family support, respect for the individual, and an individual approach to personal and educational needs. We strive to provide a responsive climate for parents to partner with us in educating their students. Beckendorff Junior High also supports the VIPS (Volunteers in Public Schools) and PIE (Partners in Education) liaisons in order to fully benefit from volunteers in our school. BDJH maintains a website with the most current school information, including procedures, reminders, and upcoming events. In addition, our principal hosts a parent coffee two times per year to collaborate with stakeholders regarding the direction of the school.

The vision statement of Katy Independent School District is "Be the Legacy". As a part of this goal, KISD's mission is to be the leader in educational excellence, together with family and community, providing unparalleled learning experiences designed to prepare and inspire each student to live an honorable, fulfilling life...to create the future.

The school leadership structure is designed to maximize the effective use of key personnel with a focus on instructional leadership and staff growth and development. The building principal heads a four person administrative team. Three assistant principals have direct influence with an assigned grade level. Each year these administrators cycle with their students in order to develop more established relationships. The forth assistant principal is assigned to 504 and special populations. This allows for consistent leadership in areas where documentation is intensive. With our four school counselors, duties are assigned by an alphabetic split. This allows counselors to work with the same group of students over a 3 year period of time.

Teachers-as-leaders is critical to the success of Beckendorff Junior High. Although content area leadership is assigned to a department chair individual, the input of all members is equally important. Department chair duties such as data analysis, leadership, modeling, and resource gathering is vital. These teachers are considered instructional leaders and are asked to develop, design, implement, and assess quality learning opportunities for their content. Chairpersons also collaborate extensively with their instructional coaches to develop needs assessments and timely solutions to instructional imperatives based on assessment data and feedback from both teachers and students. Additionally, a leadership group has been established comprised of teachers who aspire to various leadership positions. Opportunities to work on campus events, engage in mock interviews, book studies and roundtables are extended to this group.

Teacher input is valued and sought after in a variety of both formal and informal methods. Formal opportunities include service on campus committees, department chair positions, and grade level and department meetings. Informal opportunities for input occur daily and include the availability of administrators during planning sessions and a purposefully maintained “open door” policy that has effectively engendered trusting and mutually respectful relationships. between administration and staff members at all levels. To this end, a purposeful effort is maintained to garner as much teacher input in school practices.

The core of strong educational programming centers on the quality of instruction students receive daily. At Beckendorff great effort has been made to ensure the master schedule maximizes full utilization of instructional time during each day. Moreover, the scheduling of events and programs are strategically calendared in order to minimize disruption of classroom instruction. The building and the room assignments are strategically designed with the focus on instruction to the greatest extent possible. Beckendorff offers tutorials at strategic times such as before and after school. Targeted pull-out tutorials are held during Advisory as a strategy to close the educational gap among our students. Cooperation between content specific teachers allows for a maximum availability to students. Extracurricular activities are also an impressive quality of Beckendorff Junior High. Additionally, a diverse array of clubs are available to students at all levels.

School Processes & Programs Strengths

The creation of, and emphasis on a BDJH Staff Reference Guide makes school processes clear and well defined for all professionals.

The Beckendorff Junior High website is the foundation of information for both parents and students. By combining all school information on one site, it is our goal to clearly communicate information equitably to all stakeholders.

Katy ISD emphasizes student’s access to progressive and current technology at all levels. The district has demonstrated this commitment by providing and consistently upgrading its technology infrastructure. Beckendorff Junior High has employed an open device policy for five years. This policy allows BDJH students with the opportunity to use technological devices for learning purposes, while teaching students the hallmarks of digital citizenship. Teachers consistently seek out and employ lessons that integrate technology in learning. Each educator utilizes a personal computer, SMART board, as well as other technological devices in the effort to provide quality and engaging instruction.

Instructional materials, such as textbooks and assignments can be found on CANVAS and can be accessed by all students. On campus, filtered WiFi is available for use by students. Teachers are expected to monitor student technology use for appropriateness. In addition to personal student devices, school iPads as well as Netbooks are provided in academic classes. In addition, technology has been made available for at-home use to students who request it as a response to the movement to an online/virtual environment due to COVID-19.

Beckendorff Junior High has identified the following areas of focus in which we have identifiable strengths:

1. Collaborative Teaming
2. Data-Driven and backward design approach to instruction
3. Effective RTI process
4. Reading and math intervention courses
5. Targeted tutorials during the school day
6. Character building programs and events

Beckendorff Junior High works hard to maintain these strengths:

- Strong Parent Teacher Association (PTA) – Parents volunteer numerous hours of their time to the school, providing programming such as Character
  - to students for character education, finances for school initiatives, and support for teachers.
- Junior Achievement – Parents and community members serve as teachers for a day.
- Sixth grade parent induction session (part of Cub Camp)
- Campus Advisory Team – process to involve parents and community members in planning and evaluating campus practices
- Clearly defined educator guidelines: BJDH Staff Reference Guide 2018-19
- Bi-weekly newsletter from the administration with important reminders

The effective use of Collaborative Teaming and common planning times for teachers during the contract day is a strength at BDJH. These professional learning teams are able to deliver and receive training, disaggregate data, conference and share professional best practices. Administrators are also participants and therefore are able to provide timely answers to questions, address areas of concern or assist in gathering resources to facilitate the instructional process. Additionally, the presence of instructional coaches in Teaming provide content expertise that also fortifies strength in content.

The focus and purposeful design of the master schedule of classes to maximize all available instructional time during each instructional day is a strength as is the strategic scheduling of events and programs in order to minimize disruption of classroom instruction.

Several areas of strength have been identified at the district and campus level. The culture at BDJH is that of an early adopter of technology. The administration and faculty like to be on the cutting edge of the latest trends in educational technology and consistently seek out ways to integrate technology in the classroom. Katy I.S.D. has supported the use of technology in the classroom through funding, infrastructure and technical support.

The open WiFi at Beckendorff Junior High is conducive to the daily use of both personal digital devices, as well as those provided by the school. This philosophy allows for real-world experience across campus both in instruction and personally – highlighting the importance of digital citizenship as a fundamental part of a well-rounded citizenship program.

Problem Statements Identifying School Processes & Programs Needs

Problem Statement 1: Academic concerns can often be thought of as a students primary need when in fact social and emotional issues may be the primary contributing factor. Root Cause: Family, school, and community pressure, along with loss of social skills post-pandemic, can often manifest itself in behavioral and emotional problems.
Problem Statement 2: Our English Language Learners are often under served in regards to the strategies and resources available to that population. Root Cause: We have a need for an increased focus on professional development regarding ESL strategies across the content areas. Also, the vast number of languages spoken at Beckendorff Junior High complicates the identification and understanding of how to support the individual student.

Problem Statement 3: Parents report an inconsistency in information provided by teachers and other campus entities. Root Cause: The multiple resources provided by our district and school can be overwhelming and sometimes counterproductive. Parents often struggle to know which resource to refer to. Canvas, HAC, school newsletters, teacher emails, and general campus policies need to be streamlined for a more user friendly experience.
Perceptions

A Culture of Building Relationships

Problem Statements Identifying Perceptions Needs

Problem Statement 1: The learning community easily places such emphasis on the highest performing students that the average student can get overlooked and even underserved. Root Cause: Lack of emphasis on the individual as an important entity aside from looking at their academic performance level alone.

Problem Statement 2: The perception that academic performance or a specific talent is the greatest measure of personal success. Root Cause: Cultural and social norms.

Performance Objective 1: Teachers are informed of the English language proficiency levels of the emergent bilingual students (English learners) in their classrooms, and Professional Learning Communities actively utilize the ELPS to provide meaningful opportunities for ELs to develop social and academic English proficiency in listening, speaking, reading and writing. BDJH will provide targeted, ongoing, professional development for teachers who service the ESL population. This is of particular emphasis with the addition of a Newcomer population to the BDJH campus.

Evaluation Data Sources: PLC agendas, meeting minutes, increased use of ELL teaching strategies observed in administrative classroom observation, providing purposeful opportunities for emergent bilingual students to meaningfully participate in all areas of student life.
